

Reliyian slowly comes around as she hears the demon woman scream, looking up in time to see Cordin release into her as well as the new monster, the one that had ravaged her and Gibral bathing her in their collective seed.

The newest creature, which seemed spawned somehow from the black crystal, finishes off Ophelia along with the others and then suddenly snatches her up in its arms. Put her down! I command you! screams Gibral, but the creature seems not to hear him. It smacks Cordin to the ground and makes a horrifying scream. The Id Fiend attacks it at Gibral's command and the two creatures begin battling over the captive Ophelia.

Cordin, now sitting down on his knees, shakes his head again and puts his hands to his head. ARghhh what is going on? What happened? The daze and confusion in his eyes is leaving him as he take in his surroundings and looks around for Reliyian, finding her in a heap on the floor covered in white.

Damn damn damn! Shouts Gibral as he rushes to a book he left lying on the ground nearby and flipping through its pages.

Reliyian is glistening with the drool of the beast and the slime from its skin, being spared the embarrassing fate of the succubus, this time. Some fluids of hers and the mutated kenku dribble down her inner thigh. She slowly rises on her knees, sitting back on her legs as she is still weak from battle and the hard fucking.

The two creatures fight and the larger one (clearly some kind of undead construct), even while holding Ophelia, easily fends off the Id Fiend, which dances and slashes around it trying to make a killing blow. Both of you now notice that the Black crystal in the room is flickering with an inner light, like a strobe. Gibral sees as well and it sends a panic across his face. No. How is this happening? I've done everything so carefully!

Gibral rushes to the white crystal and touches it with his finger while muttering something. But the white crystal does not glow and he becomes even more panicked. The large beast snatches the id fiend in one hand, and then, with the tendrils from its mouth snaps the fiend in half. The beast turns to Gibral. I am your master damn you!!!!!!

Realizing Cordin has come around to his normal self he can see a deep embarrassment on her face as she turns away from him and covers her exposed chest, crossing a leg over her thigh to hide her soft, neat fur of her nether region. I am fine and will recover, what of you? Are you free of the demoness' influence? She still doesn't look at him as she tries to get a handle on what is going on.

The crystals flickering suggests to you that it is out of balance, too full of power perhaps. You are not certain what it does or where it draws its power from, but it seems connected to the summoning of that monster.

Yes I....I think I am fine. He says, still naked, a puddle of his own cum between his legs. I just am not sure what happened. Last I remember Ophelia went to kiss me. Embarrassed to have Reliyian see him like this.

The monster now turns on Gibral, Ophelia screaming still in its arm. Gibral tries to run but the creature bounds over to him and snatches him up in the other arm. Its tendrils wrap around his skull as he screams until it pops his head clean off the body and devours it. Ophelia desperately tries to kiss the beast suddenly, but it holds her away from its face. It glances over the room. Then, in the distance, all of you hear what sounds like the extremely muffled, but very loud and deep bellowing of some kind of horn. The creature races out of the room with Ophelia screaming in its arm.

Glancing at Cordin again her shame is replaced by alarm as the kenku's blood sprays wildly over the room, worried by the formidable display by the larger beast. The succubae live on the will of men, their bodies might appear slender but hide powerful magics. She tries to subtly crawl to the side of the room, watching as the monster bounds out. Calling upon her magics to heal herself she quickly moves to her tattered clothes and weaves magic to repair them. We must return to the room we were taken from, my sword and orb are there.

Cordin gets up and quickly gathers his armor which has gone in all directions, after witnessing such a horrific scene. With the monster now gone he feels a little safer but still weary. Finally dressed he says to Reliyian without looking at her. Yes yes, I need my sword and shield as well.

Cordin wraps up his many wounds, the one from the mutant kenku in his shoulder hurting badly. <spend 5 surges to get to 33>

Reliyian is already slipping her gown back on when Cordin speaks to her. Her magics have cleaned her as well. Her hair set back and perfectly braided and her skin clear. A victim of his own corruption She frowns and bites her lip looking at Gibrals' body, Let us hurry and return here to see what we can find from his remains. We must be careful, that zombie creature and thing that invaded my mind might still be living.

Her expression turns sheepish, I... I am sorry. I thought I could fight any undue influence, I did not mean to turn my powers on you.

Feeling naked without my orb ^_^ would rather get that first, then come back.

In each corner of the room is a different colored crystal and on the ground a strange ritual circle. The torn in half body of the Id Fiend lies in separate places. Gibrals' body lies far from his head.

It was not your fault. That creature could get inside our minds and control us. Opheilla had a similar power it seems. He says not really wanting to go into what he just did in front of Reliyian.

Religion: There are many glyphs on the ground, and some do seem related to signs of the gods, both evil and good interestingly enough. You also notice that strange spiral symbol you saw on the rocks in the cave in one place near the red crystal, but it is not particularly prominent.

Cordin looks around the room at the crystals and at the markings on the floor. I wonder what these markings mean.

Arcana: The glyphs and patterns relate to planar travel. The circle is divided into 4 quarters, one corresponding to each crystal it seems. And you recognize symbols relating to the four major planes: Feywild, Shadowfell, Elemental Chaos, and Astral Sea

Green, Black, Red, White

Reliyian scrupulously examines the markings while walking about the room, The crystals are obviously related to Gibrals' ability to summon these creatures, look here, She points out the symbol from the mine, Interesting but its ultimate meaning is not revealed. An obscure god? A cult maybe? The rest of the symbols mark the various planes of existence, each quarter of the circle most likely related to the powers of the crystal.

Cordin follows her hand as she points out different symbols on the floor. Well this all certainly seems to be beyond me. At least now Gibril won't be harming anyone else for now. Who know the extent of the damage he's done or what else lurks in this asylum. Taking a second to steady himself on the wall as he suddenly feels woozy, the affects of Ophellia still fading.

*She obviously has some aversion to being close to Gibril's headless body, nodding to it, Perhaps it all ends with him? Are you alright?

Yes, I am fine now. Let's go get our weapons if there is no more left to see here. Not used to not having is sword and shield in hand.

Both of you again hear a distant muffled rumble of a very low-toned horn blaring somewhere. Roll perception

Would you mind then...? She nods to the body again, Also, something occurs to me. The symbol is near the red crystal, which corresponds to Elemental Chaos. On our return to the city (name again?) we should investigate.

Ah yes I suppose we should check what remains of his body. Cordin moves over to the remains of Gibril and sifts through them trying to get the least amount of his blood on him as possible.

Reliyian, you also think you hear a distant scream, less muffled than the horn. It was a woman, but not Ophelia.

I will leave the magic investigation to you. I have some knowledge but it is limited. He says as he moves what might have been a shoe, finding nothing and throwing it to the side.

As Cordin searches she bends down closely to copy the symbol onto a page in her ritual book, for reference later.

Cordin finds several items. One is a torn page of what looks like a map. (see livestream) You also find the book he was carrying. But you are unable to find anything else on him. (feel free to check Reliyian)

*Reliyian moves up to Cordin and looks over the map, frowning as she realizes if she thinks they are where she thinks they are, they might be in serious trouble. But she lays a hand on his wrist and smiles at him. A reassuring and forgiving look, trying to put his troubles at ease for their recent predicament, His book, it might be useful.

And we should make haste, if we are here, She points the room she believes we're in, We have to find our wares quickly.

Hmm yes. It may reveal to what is going on in this area. From the map it looks as if we are in a different wing almost. He says looking at their current location on the map. <roll perception on book?>

Cordin pulls out the book flipping through it again and looks at it clearly not finding anything useful. Again he hands it off to his partner to see what she can find.

Reliyian smirks as her big green sage eyes stare up at him, a funny smile on her face. She takes the book and thumbs through it with her trademarked thoroughness.

We are quite vulnerable without our weapons. I feel we can be easily taken advantage of if something is to surprise us before we can regain our things. He says looking into her green eyes/

The book is part ritual book, part journal. The ritual portions are filled with dark summoning rituals and demon/devil bargaining and control methods. The kind of magics neither of you would ever wish to try. There are explanations of how to feed souls to succubae to satiate them. You notice a drawing of a large crystal with a door around it, surrounded by 4 smaller doored crystals an eye painted on it. On this page, a metal key drops out and onto the floor...

Although I can still use my magics, the orb allows a special... She pauses as the key drops to the ground and clinks of the floor. Carefully bending down to retrieve it Reliyian holds the page open for Cordin to see. Dark rituals. This book is best kept away from mortal hands. This is the page the key dropped from. The eyes, from my vision perhaps.

The journal portion starts out seem to be Gibril's personal notes. They start with complaints of needing more funds from Ganwalard and his concerns about the dangers of playing with interplanar summoning. Over the course of the journal he goes quite clearly mad and obsessed, taking detailed notes on beasts copulating with women and also Ophelia and writing about feeding her souls to sustain her. "My deadline with Ganwalard is drawing closer..." reads one late passage...

"I have found a variety of results, though the black crystal is clearly the most potent in this place. Still, all the crystals function magnificently in this area where the veil between planes is thin. I have been crossbreeding and experimenting, and have found some interesting results. But i am concerned not enough to keep Ganwalard satisfied. I need more women. Yes. That is the problem. In the meantime, I will continue using the Feysilver/Shadowgold compound I have designed on the creatures, patients, and orphans in this abominable place. So close I can taste it."

(big ole chunk a text XD)

That key may very well be from your dream but at the least it must be important. Cordin fiddles with his hands not knowing what to do with him now that he doesn't have his normal shield and sword. We should move and find our things.

Reliyian holds up the key just in front of her nose, turning it slowly as the torchlight glints off it, Ganwalard clearly has some far reaching ulterior motive in mind. Beyond the shadowgold it seems. At least now we know why he chose this place, with all the death and torture its separation from the plane of shadow is thin and would be good for such experiments. Her voice monotone, clinical even.

She nods, tucking the book and key in her satchel. [Assuming I have it?]

Both of you realize, by the way, that the Black Crystal still flickers.

One last thing before we leave, should we leave these crystals here for anyone to find? I feel that they should be destroyed. He says as the black crystal catches both their eyes.

oh yeah, i almost forgot, how big are the crystals? Can we take them?

wanted to mess with them earlier

They're about the size of a bowling pin and hovering in the air.

Do we have the rest of our stuff, that is, something to carry them in?

sure. but they are rather large.

*Cordin walks over to the black flickering one and peers at it with one eye. These are quite dangerous but leave them or try and bring them they could be a danger to us if we have them.

*Reliyian pauses a finger on her chin as she thinks, My elders would think very low of me to not take these to study. Perhaps you are right, however, and they should be destroyed. But how?

I am not sure. Cordin reaches out and pokes the black flickering crystal with his forefinger and quickly recoils, afraid something might happen. Satisfied, he grabs it with both hands and throws it against the opposite wall.*

You touch the crystal and it stings when you do and you draw your hand back quickly.

Ouch! Cordin yells pulling his hand away while glaring at the crystal. Destroying it might not be so easy. He says holding his hand for a second, realizing he's had far worse injuries than a quick sting.*

*Reliyian moves over to him quickly, grabbing his hand and turning it over with both her hands as she sounds concerned, Are you alright?

You recognize, particularly as a paladin, that it was necrotic (death) damage being dealt to you when you touched it. A radiant power might easily harm it.

I am fine but this appears to be a thing of death. I believe a radiant power may have more luck than pure brute force. He says looking over at Reliyian.*

It may be best to leave them. Should we eliminate those who abuse their power we can always come back. She shakes her head Perhaps, but I do not have the resources to affect the others.

Yes we can come back once we've found our weapons. Let's follow this map and see if we can find our things. He says map in front of them as he walks out of the room.*

She nods, following.

The room opens into a hallway going in both directions. Just around the corner is a pile of your things and a box that seems to have been knocked over, likely by that monster that ran earlier.

(YOU FIND YOUR STUFF LOL)

*Reliyian quirks her brow, Convenient.

Picking up his sword and shield, Cordin feels much more comfortable now that he has his things back. Well those crystals aren't going anywhere for now. We can always go back and destroy them later. And if we did try and destroy them, if we are not careful, I feel we could severely hurt ourselves.

She quickly rifles through her things to get her orb and her sword. She actually pauses and holds it parallel to the ground and prays over it before slipping the blade into her half scabbard.

You've got the strong arm, if you wish you can try to just smash the crystals with your sword?

Verywell, let's move on.

The hall is dimly lit with torches and you realize that this place is older than where you were before. The stone looks more ancient, and the architecture is more outdated. It does not look like the abandoned wing as before.

As you begin travelling down the hall, you both clearly hear two different women's screams as well as a monstrous noise and some other unidentifiable sound echoing from somewhere ahead. It is cold here.

Shhhhh. Cordin says quietly. Something is going on up ahead, let's see if we can catch it unawares.
<roll stelh!>

Reliyian shivers, The touch of death is strong here, be careful.

Both of you clumsily stumble forward, the stones shaking loosely occasionally beneath your feet...

The screams become louder and you find yourself in a long corridor. You hear several different women screaming now, pants and gasps, heavy breathing. Growls and inhuman groans. A strange screech and other noises ahead.

Cordin rights himself after stumbling and helps Reliyian regain her balance as well, Putting his hands on her waist as he does so.

Cordin can feel Reliyian's hand on his back as he moves forward as they stumble and he rights her she gives him a nervous smile. These women seem in trouble, we should hurry.

Yes I agree, let's go. And they take off toward the screams

You see now that there are four doors made of bars in the corridor. The first two become visible to you and you are able to peer inside...

*<http://www.imagefap.com/image.php?id=814372174> To see this woman in a cage within the room surrounded by these creatures, each about a foot tall:

*The creatures are all over the cage at every angle masturbating and thrusting their phalluses between the bars at her. Several reach through and grab her breasts and she is glistening with semen. She sees you at the door. OH god please help me!!!

same on both sides of the hall?

Behind you, you hear a cry of help as well. Me too! Please don't leave me! as you turn to see another woman, <http://www.imagefap.com/image.php?id=1247131826> on her back with this creature between her legs: <http://www.imagefap.com/image.php?id=1523892768>

(it's the size of a head)

My god! Cordin says. More atrocities by Gibral! Why does he do these things to these women? He says looking from one cage to another. Don't worry we'll take care of these things for you!

The doors have a keyhole in them, there are two more doors ahead and you also notice a metal plaque on the wall ahead past all four doors.

Reliyian puts her hand to her mouth as a gasp escapes her lips. Disgusted, Cell keys? Let's get them.

Hopefully! He says to her as runs to get the keys to save the women in the cages. Just hold on a bit longer! He yells to them Cordin unlocks the door and the monkey-like creatures all turn to the open door and growl. Roll initiative.

As the gibberling monkeys (that's what they are called) turn they whip across the room in a swarm and pounce on Cordin almost instantly. As they approach, you are able to see that these are bizarre animals, angry and hateful with fire in their eyes and terrible claws...

They pounce and pull you to the ground quickly. 4 damage and you are knocked prone.

Reliyian go.

Argh! Get off of me you filthy disgusting things! He says as they hit him in the chest, knocking him over.

Reliyian eyes the beasts and takes a step back to get a better view <shift to H15> and waves her hand over orb and unleashes a beam of dark cold energy <chill strike>

The ray blast across them, killing 2 of the monkeys but several remain. The attack seems less effective than Reliyian would have hoped.

Seeing the monkey creatures still advancing she draws her blade as well.

Cordin stands up throwing the little creature(s) off of him (minor action). He looks down at the little things ready to end their lives quickly. He takes a deep breath and lighting shoots from his mouth at the monkeys. <dragonbreath!>

The strike kills a single monkey, but the swarm is somewhat hard to target with regular strikes.

(bloodied)

The monkeys suddenly, in unison, let out a horrifying shriek that pierces your ears. Both of you are taking a -2 to all defenses and are deaf (save ends).

Reliyian harrumphs! There are too many to strike but with Cordin's position she has to move forward or else risk striking her friend [shift to g14]. Swinging her arm as if wielding an imaginary whip she unleashes her powerful clap of thunder.

Cordin still not able to hear anything, finds them no less annoying now that he can't hear them. He keeps having to look back behind him to see what his partner is doing. Cordin readies himself to attack again but first uses his divine challenge on them. Then he raises his longsword and attacks with stolen life.

The gibberling swarm strikes at both of you with claws...

Suddenly sound floods back into Cordin's head and the monkeys shrieking comes back into focus. He shouts at his partner but clearly she has no idea what he's trying to say to her.

Reliyian, 5 damage, Cordin 6 damage.

Then the creatures try to pounce on Cordin again.

5 damage and knocked prone again Cordin =>

Reliyian go!

Reliyian cringes, the sound of the monkey's screech still ringing in her ears as she can barely hear the sounds of her companion despite being directly next to him. She does her best to focus her mind and strike again with her own booming sound.

Seeing her magic completely ineffective yet again and Cordin knocked to the floor she steps back and readies to defend herself [shift to H14]. At least the muffled sounds slowly clear.

Cordin stands up again(move action) and grunts finding these monkeys more trouble than they should be. Looking back at Reliyian he just mouths, lets finish this, and attacks with his valiant strike.

You graze a monkey with your blade. They are still coming.

The monkeys attack Cordin yet again and pull him to the ground once more. Prone. Take 3 damage.

Done.

She nods back to her friend, though confidence does not show in her eyes. Recoiling as Cordin kicks, bashes with his shield and swings his blade violently but the odd creatures just seem to keep coming. She moves forward again and unleashes another thunderwave.

The monkeys drop dead to the ground from the thunderwave.

do encounter powers return after soemthing like this with the other cages around?

Cordin stands up for a third time dusting the dirt from the ground off of him. Those things were quite nasty! Miss are you ok. He says offering his hand for help if she needs it.

no this is counting as a single encounter unless you wait more than 10 min

send us that monster btw

i need to see what's sexing what

Reliyian's orb sparkles with energy that quickly fades as she bends down to help him up, although it's unclear if she actually did.

<http://spiritsofeden.files.wordpress.com/2009/11/2.jpg>

Is the creature having sex with the girl.

Also about the size of a head.

*She moves forward, trying to sound concerned but her detached nature still rings in her voice,
We will open your cage but you must remain here and safe for a moment longer.
There are others who need to be freed and we do not want you in danger.

*The girl nods, pieces of tattered clothing are strewn throughout the room. My name is Amelia. I was a nurse until they trapped me down here...I will wait. Please hurry back here though. There are so many monsters.

They move to the opposite cage and ready for another battle. Cordin quickly tends to one wound as they ready to fight (if i can use surges now)

You can spend a surge, but no encounter powers back

She watches Cordin unlock the cage and moves directly behind him as he prepares to enter the next one [G15]

She should be ok, that thing didn't hit her much.

ok nm next battle!

Turn order is Reliyian-Cordin-Baddy.

I didn't roll ^_^ I guess using same initiative?

unless u wait a lot i count this as 1 fight

*The girl screams, trying to shove the thing out from between her legs as you open the door. Get it off of me!

From this angle she is careful not to hurt the girl and instead focuses her magic on her beam of blistering cold. Move in to block this monster's path! She calls out, inside wishing there was someone else to send forward against their foes.

you're done. you botched.

Grumble

its okay dragonbaby

The Marauder reluctantly pulls out of the girl now that it has been hurt, a frosty glaze across its skin from Reliyian's attack. It then charges at the downed dragonbaby.

XD

attacking the bday boy

It botches and trips over its own throbbing cock and falls to the ground as well. Prone.

*Reliyian watches the antics, she would be amused if she weren't a stoic Eladrin and stares into her orb as white energy gathers and she launches another beam at the beast, Foul perverse monster!

Cordin stands up, embarrassed by his fall and looks to rectify it with another attack (move action). Swinging his sword he attacks. No more women for you! He yells while attacking with valiant strike.

This creature is using magic similar to your own teleportation to move in and out of planes. You think possibly the astral sea. However, it seems to have returned from its teleport with a stange new magic aura. It almost seems to be existing in both planes at once.

The creature then lashes out at Reliyian and hits, dealing 8 damage. She finds herself suddenly teleported back 3 spaces into the cage with the other girl.

Reliyian jumps as the creature suddenly appears near her, eyeing the beast she cautions Cordin, This beast is between two worlds. She tries to slide sideways but feels the crunch on her leg and suddenly finds herself in the cage. Kicking the door open as she quickly returns to the fight.

ITS FUCKING DEAD

the creature is split open by your strike.

Cordin and Reliyian stand over the dimensional marauder's corpse. Neither has ever seen a creature like it before. Two women have been freed and wait, frightened, in their cells but the screams of help from the other two cells are loud and desperate.

Reliyian opens the cage of the second woman they freed, Go. Across the hall. The two of you stick together. Okay? She nods and tries to sound reassuring, hoping that no longer being isolated will give the women encouragement.

The woman rushes across the hall quickly, her breasts bobbing as she does so. The two women say nothing to each other but hide behind the cage in the room, praying the two heroes are able to finish the job.

Yes, good idea. We will get you out of here but we must make sure the area is clear first. Cordin says looking as the two women huddle close together, still clearly shaken from their ordeal.

Reliyian smiles and puts a delicate hand to Cordin's forearm, trying to keep up his (and her own) morale, Are you ready?

Yep, let's see what else is ahead. More monsters I'm sure. And they set off down the hallway leaving the women behind.

She smirks as she raises her orb and girds herself for what they might see next.

The cell to the left contains this woman: <http://www.imagefap.com/image.php?id=1115635246> being taken from behind by this creature: <http://www.imagefap.com/image.php?id=1414476045>. She gasps for breath as she sees you. Don't leave me here! The cell to the right contains another woman: <http://www.imagefap.com/image.php?id=167366812> who is standing up, clearly being ravished, but no assailant is visible. Her breasts squeeze in the air and her legs spread apart forcefully as she stares at you both through the bars pleadingly.

LOL

In addition, there is a panel on the wall with a keyhole (marked by a black dot)

Don't worry we're here to help you! Cordin says to both of them We'll get you out of there in just a second. Cordin fumbles in his sack for keys..

didnt we get a key from the dead doctor?

The dretch is about to attack but then sees the girl on the ground and then picks her back up. She screams trying to crawl away, but the creature holds her tight and licks her breast. End of turn (it botched).

Reliyian gasps as she sees Cordin stumble, glad the creature cannot see past its own lust, but only for a moment. She moves forward (G11) and focuses another beam of cold on it as her mind tries to overpower the creature's physical form.

*The stench causes Cordin to dry heave at the disgusting monster. Guh!! He yells trying to hold his hand over his nose. This this is revolting!!

It's ok you are going to be safe now. We're here to protect you. Go to the other cell with the other two women and when we are sure the area is clear we will get you out of here Cordin helps the woman stand up, holding her shoulders as he feels her body shake.

Reliyian cannot bring herself to approach the frozen corpse from the smell, wrinkling her nose and covering her mouth with the back of her sword hand.

*She pauses as the woman walks out with Cordin's instructions, taking a moment to to cast prestidigitation to attempt the clean the woman up somewhat. Hoping to remove enough if not all of the smell to give her some relief, pointing to where the other woman are, Go there, you will be safe and this will be over soon.

*Reliyian moves forward to the poor woman, trying to offer comfort as she is genuinely concerned, Are you alright? We've freed the others, we will bring you to safety.

I...thank you. Can I go home now?

*Reliyian nods to Cordin, I will get the others but they should still stay well behind us. Dragged deeper into the depths of this place we are lost. Perhaps even, they can help us find a way out.

She gets up back to the first cell to let the others know all the monsters here were killed and everyone was set free.

The women follow Reliyian out, cautiously. They aren't very talkative but understand they must follow behind.

Yes, stay behind us in case there is trouble. If something happens get as far away from us as possible. We'll come back for you if there is another fight. He says to them, his head tuned as he talks over his shoulder to them.

The girls all shake their heads in confusion. The nurses seem to try to cover themselves, embarrassed particularly in front of Cordin. The prostitutes take no mind of it.

Cordin tries not look at them as they seem to be nervous due to their predicament and state of dress. Well she must still be here somewhere then. We did say we'd try and find her (i think). Let's see what else is here as we try and rescue these women. He says as he begins to move toward the front of the wing.

*Reliyian looks frustrated, biting her lip Ossar's missionary is not here it seems. Perhaps she went directly to the mists.

*She nods in agreement with her friend, sheathing her blade. Perhaps we can find some of their things as well.

(you saw shredded clothes in the cells, tattered beyond repair)

This room has a west and east exit. Both wooden doors with keyholes. You also see that hanging on the wall are several robe-like garments...labcoats it would seem.

Reliyian also runs a finger over the mysterious keyhole in the wall. Apparently it wasn't needed to open any of these cages, You should perhaps try the key here she calls to Cordin as she gathers robes for the women and distributes them.

Hmm, yes. Which way I wonder though is the best. He says thinking for a second.

The girls put on the labcoats...not exactly a whole outfit. But certainly an improvement.

(i think shes referring to the metal plaque with the keyhole on the wall)

*Reliyian adjusts them for one of the more nervous of them, There... see, better?

yes, the black dot right?

Yep

Do any of you know which way you were brought, the fastest way to leave?

*The girl sighs and then suddenly hugs Reliyian, more tears pouring out of her eyes. One of the prostitutes takes the girl and holds her. We'll be alright sister.

well i just assumed they keyholes opened the doors so i was just conversing on which way to go

The girls look at each other but none are certain.

Looking at the women but not sure how to comfort them he leaves it to his partner. Somehow he doesn't feel a large dragonborn like thing would be much comfort to them right now.

She is surprised, leaning back as at first she tries to avoid being held but then does her best to gently caress the woman and rub her lightly on the back as the woman cries. Thankful to be released as her "sister" takes her back.

That keyhole is different though, or am I misunderstanding? The doors have separate holes on them right?

Each door has a keyhole, then there is the plaque. You are correct.

*Looking anxious she nods following Cordin again, waving the woman back, hoping for them to keep distance. The magic of this place grows an effect of Gibril's death? Or perhaps the powers he attempted to control have grown wild, we must be careful.

I'm sure the things he was trying to control have just gone wild. Remember how the crystal wasn't respoding the way he thought it would. He says as he takes the lead and goes down the narrow hallway, women in tow.

She nods.

It is extraordinarily unlikely he is to be trusted...although in strangeness he does seem a bit sincere at the moment.

My name is Zarash. I was summoned here but then promptly imprisoned. Apparently I wasn't what my caller was looking for...I think he wanted a succubus. Regardless, the blundering fool imprisoned me in this circle of binding with that tablet there. It was foolish of me to allow this to happen of course.

The halls here are endless, but I can sense the way out to the surface and I know that is what you poor things must seek. The way there is treacherous, two monsters guard the path. But I can help you slay them if you free me.

Ah I see why you are being nice to us. You want us to release you, which then in turn you will attack us. Nice try but I'm not sure letting you free is such a good idea for us. He says looking at Reliyian to see her take.

*She listens, cringing and glancing at Cordin at the mention of succubus. You must believe we have just crawled out our mother's wombs that we should put such trust in you. Let alone our lives.

Everything he's saying seems true. The ritual is what he says. A summoner of a devil can perform such a binding ritual to hold the creature as needed if they have the proper components.

*Reliyian bends at the knees to observe the tablet, keeping herself facing the imprisoned outworldly monster. Looking over the inscriptions and sensing the magic she gives a slight nod to Cordin, He is indeed bound and would remain trapped here until the next comes along. Then stepping back and meeting the demon's gaze, So tell us creature so we may consider your offer.

The way out is south. But two monstrous creations of my summoner lie in wait there, protecting the exit. You will need my help to defeat them.

What are they? Cordin asks trying to get more information out of him.

An undead monstrosity, and some sort of demon. I hate demons. I will gladly rid this world of its presence for you.

*She slowly circles back towards Cordin, always keeping facing the bloated thing. Fear inside but steely nerve on the surface, Once freed, there will be nothing compelling him to keep his word.

I will give you a devil oath to defeat the two creatures for you. He mutters in a sympathetic tone.

Rolling her eyes, An oath which has no value.

Reliyian, you would be aware the devils are creatures of corruption and contracts, they can be bound to serve oaths and such by their word, but are known for their trickery as well.

Go see the monsters yourself

And then run back when you need me he smiles

Relian perhaps you should quickly scout ahead since I make too much noise and see what is there. It will take but a second. He says eyeing the trapped monster, sure he cannot be trusted.

Nodding she heads to the nearest door to the south, opening it carefully and quietly she slips through it. She sneaks ahead, to observe the creatures and further test the worth of the creature's oath.

The creatures don't move, but growl. Reliyian realizes it seems they can't follow her through the narrow passages.

*She closes the door, back against it eyes still wide as she leans on it and stares at Cordin, The devil does not lie, there are two very large creatures just beyond a short hallway. Fortunately, there were too large to follow or bound to that room somehow.

Cordin comes up quickly. Are you ok? I see they spotted you. Thankfully they couldn't get to you. He says with a sigh of relief. Their plan almost failing./

Now you see I speak the truth. Why don't you free me so I can help you? I give you my oath I will aid your escape by defeating them.

Since this is magic Reliyian do you think you can release him? He says looking over at her.

All you have to do is smash the tablet. The devil says.

She nods, It is surprisingly easy. Disturb the binding circle and damage the binding stone. That is why such care must be taken when dealing with such beasts.

Reliyian walks over to the tablet, holding it over her head and then hurling it to the ground. Hoping not to embarrass herself.

oops beat me to it

i was offering a lesson on devil summoning 101

The tablet shatters and the magics on the ritual circle vanish. Now that Zarash is free, you both see the strange faces on his belly moving around, as though trapped within but also a part of him. The faint sound of screaming can be heard from his belly. Let's go to work. He says with a smile.

Cordin watches in surprise as she quickly smashes the tablet releasing the devil. Now help us defeat those monsters like you said and we can go our own ways. He says as they make their way to the mosnters.

Roll initiative.

The girls run back into the hallway to hide as Zarash rushes to the southern door and knocks it open Let's have some fun! He shouts wickedly. You hear commotion.

I don't think i should be first in as that would be dangerously exposing myself so I'll delay with the intention of going after Cordin Cordin rushes in next through the door reliyian opened earlier to see what is going on. Reliyian follows closely behind and inside they see DM!)

You see that Zarash is fiercely battling the Undead Abomination, the other creature, a Demonic Hulk, turns to you.

the hulk is the spikey one right

yes

Sorry is ure go Cordin if i didnt make that clear

Cordin rushes in and attacks the hulk, charging him and attacking with ardent strike. With his sword held high he's ready for another battle.

The cold blast leaves an icy streak along the Hulk's side and the creature lets out a gut-churning roar in response at Reliyian.

It then grabs Cordin and tosses Cordin behind it.

11 damage and you are prone

Zarash and the Abomination go at each other, and the Abomination seems to have trouble handling zarash

(zombie is bloodied)

Cordin lets out a UMPFFF! As he's thrown nearly across the room. Lying on the ground with a hard thud, a clatter of metal and scales can be heard.

Cordin's turn.

Cordin stands up(move action) and attacks the abomination in front of him, aiding zarash. Wielding his sword, first spinning it around in front of his body he then attacks with his deadly valiant strike.

She tries to twist to the side as its massive claw grabs her, the long sharp nails punching holes in her gown and a rip is heard as she cries out, AAAGH! and is slammed into the ground.

The hulk towers of Reliyian, a solid 18 feet...no eyes. It's whole body unglutes unnervingly.

The cut goes deep into the zombie, it does not seem to be holding up well.

Reliyian

Reliyian stands, a series of rips on the side of her gown makes it hang open on her left side, Cordin seeing a flash of round, soft flesh of the side of her breast. She quickly mummurs ancient magics as a swirl of spectral blades appears slashing and cutting at her enemies near her.

Zarash claws back, strange red energy flowing around his claws and makes a deep cut into the hulk.

He then shouts Now you die! and attacks again (action point) landing another blow.

Cordin go.

Reliyian tries to muster some strength as she folds her gown over to try to hide the splits and rips. Reaching up with her other hand as she clutches the fold she brushes back the braided locks, watching the fight unfold. Staring at the valiant Cordin as he calls down his divine powers to the hulking beast. She glances at the devil, sure it cannot be trusted and hoping Cordin does not turn his back on it.

Cordin attacks with his valiant strike. Time to finish this thing off already! And yet again with his blessed longsword lets his god help him attack the hulk

Reliyian looks up startled as she hears the words of the devil, Damn... you, filthy, lying... you will never have me... She only weakly manages. Trying to rise she is up on knee, still folding over the gown. Clearly struggling as she drops her orb that rolls along the ground.

*The glowing blade strikes Zarash all the way across his body. He seems badly hurt but tries his best not to look phased, A noble effort certainly. I like your spirit. I am glad I will have the pleasure of crushing it before I take your friend.

He claws out at you and as you raise your shield to block it, you realize that the blow is immensely strong and your shield is knocked to the ground, a huge claw mark across it, and a wave of pain is sent through Cordin. 22 damage.

As Cordin falls to the ground Zarash chuckles. I didn't lie at all you know. You should really learn to make better contracts. Now I am going to take the eladrin as payment.

The faces on his belly scream and laugh simultaneously along with him

Cordin feels the shield ripped from his hands as he is clawed by Zarash. NO! He yells. She will never be yours!!!! Cordin screams at him, powerless now to stop the devil from his desires.

Reliyian pulls herself up along the wall, pressing hard against it as the creature claims victory. One hand still holding her gown together, the other behind her, palm pressed on the wall as she slides towards the door. Eyes wide and desperate.

Reliyian has one arm across her torso, holding her gown together from the long slice just off center down her front. Her fingers grip into the fabric to keep it from flying open, but the split tore down the skirt, her right leg and part of the smooth curve of her rump visible. Back to the wall, she looks fearful at the demon, shuffling along it, her other hand palm flat against. Weak from the battle she slowly slides towards the door.

Cordin is slumped against the wall near where the huge monster previously had thrown him. His battle with Zarash was a close one but in the end Cordin proved to be no match for his powers. With his back against the wall, Cordin lifts his head up to watch the monster make its way away from him now that he is no longer any threat. He fears for what may be coming next and knows it is his fate to watch what comes next, unable to stop it.

The fresh corpses of the Undead Abomination and the Demonic Hulk lie in the middle of the room as Zarash stands triumphantly over them. Now now, you're not going anywhere my dear eladrin beauty. The faces in his stomach churn, stretching the skin of his belly slightly. It is as though they are simultaneously trapped inside him and growing out of him. The compound Gibril injected into me...is effecting my senses. It is taking a great deal of will not to pounce on you this very moment. But first I'd like to offer you a deal. He grins wickedly.

reminder: <http://www.imagefap.com/image.php?id=1114741850>

Reliyian, don't listen to him. Cordin gasps, using as much effort as he can to speak. You can't trust him! He says wide eyed and looking over at her. Seeing her barely keeping her clothes on as the devil man makes his way to her.

Inside she is terrified but her Eladrinic cold-blooded nature takes hold. Not wanting to make any 'deal' as she now sees first hand what that means. However, she woefully glances to Cordin, not wanting to put him in any more danger even as he shouts a warning, What is it you seek then, devil?

I would know to address him correctly, devil instead of demon, no?

yes

My offer is simple enough he says as he licks his lips, his eyes straying across Reliyian's more exposed curves I will release both of you if you sign a contract releasing your custody of the girls you've rescued over to me. I will then take them back to the hells with me. I assure you this is a most favorable deal for you.

Unable to hold back her astonishment, What?! Never!

The offer is to both of you. Either of you may sign over custody. Consider, I will finish you off and then take the girls anyway. Surely you don't wish to unnecessarily sacrifice your lives and your...dignity to me.

Just because you release us doesn't mean you wouldn't find some other way out of that and try and harm us again. He says while briefly lifting his head, then letting it slump back and to the side, so he can still somewhat keep an eye on the devil.

Is that your final word? Don't be foolish now.

Reliyian curses in her native tongue and spits to the ground, I will never agree to sacrifice the lives of others, no matter what the cost to me! She remains partially slumped over as she continues to move along the wall, trying to put distance between them, as she moves you can clearly see the straps of her leather sandals wind up her ankle, normally hidden by her gowns.

nothing is really stopping him from going to get them anyway

It's the principle

i know

Especially for Reliyian and being an eladrin and all i think i know why maybe we can't see his typing

if he goes to his privacy settings it may be unchecked to allow others to see you type anyway....continue dragonbaby smart!

Very well then. Zarash closes his beady eyes for a moment and inhales. His body trembles and the tiny flagella on his shoulders and upper back stand straight up. You're not going anywhere. He speaks softly as he rushes forward with a sudden burst of speed and plants a thick arm to each side of Reliyian against the wall, trapping her in front of him. He sniffs the air in front of Reliyian's face, and she can hear the very faint sound of men screaming coming from inside his belly.

We cannot give you those girls. God knows what you would do to them and we cannot let them be taken against their will even if it is to save us. He glances quickly at the hallway where he last saw them. Plus they have been through enough.

Can you see if i'm typing now? I still can't see when u guys are

i can't no

Reliyian shrieks, half expecting the devil to do her in right then and there. She crouches down as the outworlder slams its palms against the stone. Leaning away from him as he breathes in her scent. Naturally that of a light smell of the springtime forest, enhanced by the night blooming jasmine she would collect from the mountains just outside in the mortal realm where it met the feywild of her home.

Leave her alone! He says as he reaches out to Reliyian with one arm, the rest of his body barely moving. Without her hands holding her clothing together he can see her breasts sway and jiggle as she is thrown against the wall on the opposite side of the room from him.

Zarash smiles and wiggles his large pointed ears. Mmmm...I have not taken one as fresh or beautiful as you in such a long time. The succubi of my home are wonderful no doubt, but it's so nice to have a partner put up a bit of a struggle. He brings his arms in closer to Reliyian as he speaks. He takes a single finger, and presses the back of it against Reliyian's cheek, feeling the incredible softness of her skin. He drags the finger down across her neck, then her collar bone and shoulder down her arm until he reaches her wrist and then snatches it. He pulls her arm to the side and slams it against the wall, pinning Reliyian there. So valiant. So brave. So sure of your own morality. Now I shall have you, kill your friend, and take you and the girls with me back to the hells where you will be my slaves.

Reliyian just glares at him, saying nothing as her hand is thrust aside, grunting AH! as he forcefully presses her hand to the wall. The gown spills open, hanging on her shoulders and sleeves, the pale natural skin shines. Her pink areolae and light freckles contrasted against the glow. Firm breasts now swinging free in full view of the beast, heaving as she breaths deeply.

The devil's eyes narrow and focus on Reliyian's exposed chest. Zarash begins to pant heavily. Gibril's injection is clearly taking deep hold of him now as several beads of greenish sweat trickle down his forehead. He steps back and swings Reliyian by the arm into the room in front of him, keeping a firm grip on her wrist, his fat stomach and torso swinging along and his chins jiggling nearly as well as Reliyian's breasts. His expression changes from a trickster's grin to that of a predator about to strike. He places his meaty hands on her shoulders, each big enough to nearly crush her head, and shoves her to her knees in front of him so she is aligned with the lower half of his stomach. The faces are grown into the skin but still stretch and press against it. They scream quietly but stare at Reliyian with both fear and lust.

She grunts, Ummph! as he twists her wrist moving her so quickly. She groans against his press, trying to remain standing but unable to, weary from the battle. Her knees buckle as she looks up with the wide gleaming sage eyes. As the faces stretch and seem to move towards her she looks at the gruesome display with shock and cranes her neck to look away! Some of her long white gold locks caught between the devil's meaty fingers.

One face moves to the center of Zarash's pelvis, and opens it's mouth into a scream. As it screams, something begins protruding from the mouth steadily. Reliyian quickly realizes that a long, thick phallus has emerged from the screaming mouth. The faces all stare at her screaming now, Zarash looks down and places his hands against the back of her head and pulls Reliyian's face onto the swollen cock.

Shouting in protest AAHNG! No! Don't... You can't make me... mmmmflgh! eyes open wide as its thick, callous hands grip onto the back of her head. Silky hair entangled in its grip, she pulls her head back and turns aside. Able to resist for a moment before the throbbing organ pushes between full pink lips, her mouth yielding to its girth. Her lips forced to close around it, her tongue tries to retreat but unintentionally begins to run light licks around the ridge of the cock head.

Zarash continues pulling her head further down the shaft and slowly her face approaches the screaming face on his belly. The cock is extremely moist with precum, which gathers along the edges of Reliyian's lush lips and corners of her mouth as well as dribbling down her chin as she is forced to swallow more of the cock. The sound of distant muffled screaming becomes very slightly clearer as she approaches the face, and then in one last push her lips are pressed right up against the screaming face's, forcing her to kiss it while simultaneously deep throating. The cock squirms delightedly in her mouth and throat as the face's warm lips press against hers. Two more faces slide closer in.

Throwing her hands up she grips the front of the monster's fat thighs. Trying to squirm but its hold on her too strong as her head is forced down. Her shoulders and torso rising up and sinking on her knees as she fights. She shuts her eyes tight as she feels her smooth lips touch the face's hard ones. Gagging she pushes back hard to try to catch her breath.

Reliyian feels the cock withdraw slightly back into the face's mouth so that she can breathe normally and is now only giving a normal blowjob again. The way the cock moves in her mouth, squirming and bending, it seems to be part phallus, part tendril of sorts. The faces begin clustering along the devil's stomach and pelvis towards Reliyian. Zarash pulls her body tight against his blubbery belly and two faces catch each of her nipples in their mouths and begin sucking on them. A third face lines up with her stomach and opens its screaming mouth as a long, winding tentacle with a cock head slides out, caressing her and leaving a slimy cum trail along her belly. It then slides its way between her breasts and begins thrusting between them.

Her shoulders twist but only slightly as she continues to try to fight she lets out a scream held in her throat by its stiff organ, MMppphh... hrrrrfff... blgmmnn... her lips pursed on the cock, eyes darting as she watches the faces closed in. Her hair sways slightly behind her as the devil presses down on her head and then relaxes, she tries to pull away and he lets her but just when she is about to be free it yanks her down again. Her tongue lapping along the underside of its cock as her mouth massages it. She tries to look down as she feels the mouths close around her nipples, groaning as they start to engulf her bosom too large for them to fully envelope. She trembles as she feels the tip of the second cock tentacle leave a glistening trail on her taut belly and then feels it push up. The devil's mouths pressing her velvety orbs against its thrusting.

As the faces' lips suck her nipples, Reliyian feels more cock heads tickling their stiff tips against her inside the mouths. Reliyian's breasts create a firm grip around the tentacle between them as it pops in and out of the top of her cleavage, occasionally bumping her chin. Several more faces release the long, tendril dicks which start wrapping around her arms and squirming their way into Reliyian's hands. A few others wrap around her legs and mid-section and slide underneath her remaining clothes and wrap around her further.

Her entire body lurches as the devil has its way with her, using her milky bust to caress one cock. Looking down she sees it slip up from her cleavage, its oozing fluids coating her skin until her tits glisten, moving quicker it brushes up against her cheek once or twice smearing it. Grunting as the creature undulates against her, Hrnnmm... nnnghh... mmmmmph... her eyes get a vacant look as the mouths tease her nipples, Slrruup... suck... glllmm... As her arms are yanked off the devil's legs she feels the phalluses slip into her hands and she begins to subconsciously stroke them. Letting out another muffled yelp as others entwine around her.

The tentacles wrapped around her legs begin to pull her legs apart slowly. They creep along the inside of her thighs from several directions approaching her pussy and also stroking her backside. There must be nearly a dozen tentacles now, the screams still audible against Reliyian's cries and Zarash's heavy panting. Several of the tentacles begin clutching at parts of Reliyian's clothes and ripping them off of her, attempting to expose her most precious of places.

The silk loincloth is pulled away as a hard tug simply causes it to unwrap and it is thrown to the air, the light garment floating down. The seams of her gown stretch and then a loud rip is heard as its pulled off her back. Leaving behind small sections of long sleeves and collar. Her cute plump hips and ass exposed, her back arching as her mouth continues to slip along its thick cock, tongue lashing circles up and down its length as her head rocks front and back. She stiffens up, rising slightly, as a phallic tentacle strokes her neat mound and then slides over her delicate slit. The goo slowly bubbling from the tip moistening her lower fur and as it drags its length between her hips it parts her slightly as she lets out a little whimper.

Oh yes...Zarash gently mutters in response to Reliyian's whimper. His belly jiggles with all the motion of the faces and tentacles. The cock in her mouth shudders, and suddenly erupts with hot, gooey cum. The face kisses her tightly as it comes, and then, the phallus suddenly whips back into the mouth and the mouth quickly squirms away along Zarash's stomach. Zarash places his hands on Reliyian's shoulders as a new face moves front and center on his belly. It opens its mouth, but this time instead of a long fleshy tentacle, a slimy black cock and testicles fall out of the open mouth. The erection is small, barely 3 inches. Now I am ready for you. He says as he pushes her flat onto her back, tentacles still stroking and rubbing her all over.

Reliyian's heavy melons now drip with goo from the thrusting organ and from the saliva... or was it... of the mouths eagerly suckling. Hands slick as she tries to fight back some of the tentacles, the creature's growing climax causing her mind to focus again, only slipping along the shafts as she inadvertently jerks them off. Shaking her head slightly, Noommm... gllmm... slurp... gllmbll! Nomnomnom! Her body heaves as she tries to rise only to be pushed down by its blubber slapping against her. And then with a loud splort her eyes are thrown open wide. Trying to pull away she feels the warm fluid fill her mouth, her throat pulsates lightly as she is forced to swallow. Then she gasps for air, when it slips free from her lips, coughing. Her breasts are subsequently pulled and the mashed as the mouths continue to suck. NOOO! she finally screams, Aaaargh! she hits the stone floor with a thump, her knees spring up and her feet kick to the air.

Zarash's tendrils do not cease their molesting of Reliyian as he bends over top of her, getting onto his hands and knees with his huge belly, tendrils springing from the faces in the fat, hanging and sliding against her. His greenish sweat is trickling down his body and Reliyian feels it drizzle onto her. Zarash makes eye contact for a moment, he seems barely present, consumed with lust. His hips swing down as the small cock thrusts into Reliyian's pussy. He begins rolling his hips forward as two of the smaller tendrils push their way inside Reliyian along with the cock. The three phalluses combined are the size of a very large cock, but they all thrust and tremble with different speeds and strengths, rocking Reliyian against the ground as the tendrils between her hands and breasts continue their work.

Reliyian's voice bellows as she struggles, her body squirming, wiggling, rapidly shaking side to side but to no avail its massive weight holds her in place. Her tight rump pressed hard on the cold surface, the mouths compress her pliant bust, disappearing from a fold of flab. Nnnnghh!

Ah ah ahahaha! St... stop! D..don't... not like that... not inside me! Gmm-mmmh! She feels the three phallic tentacles easily push into her, body quivering as she is violated, straining as her warm insides are forced to clench the shafts, her warm wet insides rubbing them. Coated with the green ooze now she slides along the ground easily, head rapidly bouncing up and down.

Cordin raises his head having been made to listen to Reliyian being violated by their betrayer. Looking up he sees his dear Reliyian coated in the creature's cum and green sweat and watches for a moment as he sees her suddenly violated by three different sized tentacles. Cordin tries to cry out but is unable and slumps back down hearing her gasps and his grunts as this torment continues.

Zarash digs his clawed feet deep into the stone ground to get a firmer grip for thrusting. He pushes his whole body further against Reliyian so that only the tops of her breasts and up are visible along with her spread legs out to his sides. She can still feel the tendrils all working and the mouths sucking as Zarash's huge sweaty body thrusts. His hips bob up and down almost comically, but his blubbery mass stops just short of truly crushing Reliyian, instead simply sliding her up and down against the now slick-with-fluid floor. By the hells...I...I've never...yes....you will be my slave forever! He cries out as his thrusting becomes stronger and faster.

Feeling her pussy stretched by the thick combinations of cocks twisting and twirling inside her a deep searing heat is sent like a shockwave through her. Legs kick out the side as she does her best to hold it back but the vicious pistoning is too much and she cums loudly, Ngh.. nh! nh! nh! NH! HUUUURNNG! NOOooooo! Eyes shut tight as her body betrays her. Her arms fall limply to the side as her head now just lolls along with the thrusts. As the goo pools up her hair sticks to the floor unmoving. She can only grunt and groan as the tentacles move over flushed skin still tingling.

AHHHHHHHHhhhhhhh Zarash begins crying out, his whole body trembling and thrusting. Then, all of the tendrils and Zarash begin cumming simultaneously. The cock head between her breasts erupts but continues thrusting, and the thick cum becomes caught in her cleavage making a slushing and slapping noise as a bit of excess spills out of the top and slides between the top of her breasts and the base of her neck. The cocks in her hands burst as well and she feels cum dribble across her fingers and spray onto the floor. Zarash's weight presses heavily into her as the remaining tendrils begin coating her with hot semen. The three phalluses fucking her relentlessly explode into her pussy, and Zarash's balls tremble against Reliyian's pussy lips as he thrusts all the way in while all 3 loads empty into her.*

Reliyian looks up in desperation as she cries out in dismay, AAAAGH! Her body flails briefly, her warm insides shuddering against the invading cocks as she is creamed. She stretches her neck back to avoid getting cum onto her face as she feels the tentacles explode between her mounds, the ooze flowing down over her shoulders to the floor. She lets go of the tentacles as they spray about throwing the devil's seed around. She lets out a deep sigh as she feels the creature's weight more on her, the beast's balls emptying their contents as Zarash relaxes slightly.

Cordin, patiently waiting for the right moment, has found himself able to spend a healing surge during this rest.

*Spending his final healing surge Cordin, despite his armor, stands up picking up just his sword. Perhaps the dragonborn moved so stealthy Zarash just didn't hear him, but more than likely he just was so busy having his way with Cordin's Reliyian that he just didn't hear the tink as Cordin picked up his sword and the clank of his armor as he moved quickly to the devil. Reaching the scene Cordin wrenches him off of* Reliyian, the phallus like tentacles twitching this way and that and pushes him to the ground a few squares away from the twitching Reliyian. YOU WILL PAY FOR WHAT YOU HAVE DONE TO HER!!!! He screams, eyes wide and enraged with a fury seen by very few. Cordin then holds the sword over his head and with a thrust that goes through the devil and a few inches of rock underneath, impales him and sticks him to the ground.

Reliyian groans as she feels the devil lifted off her, her mind slowly coming to as her body rises briefly when the tentacles suddenly let go. The mouths on her tits pulling free with a little pop and she falls back down. Managing to pull herself up on one hand she looks down at her body, twisted to the side along the ground and her other hand lifts as goo drips off it.

Zarash screeches in shock as he is knocked off of Reliyian and the sword pierces his belly and goes all the way through into the ground. He twitches, conscious but barely alive. It...was worth it...I could feel...she is marked. So precious. Yes. Oh yes...I'll see you all in hell. He mutters before he dies.

Cordin leaves the sword stuck in the monster as he turns away from it. I'm sure they are ok, hopefully they did as we said and hid somewhere until we find them. More importantly, are you ok? A worried look on his face. I...I couldn't watch...what he was doing to you.... it was so wrong. Not sure what to say, sad that he was not good enough to prevent the devil from having its way with her. I'm sorry..... He says trailing off and uncomfortably looking around.

There are countless types of devils throughout the hells. You are uncertain of Zarash's exact caste. But given his penchant for bargaining you think he is a lesser corruption devil.

Somehow she manages a weak smile and attempts to wave Cordin off, The way is now clear. It was a small sacrifice to make for our safety and to send a devil back to the Nine Hells. Please, make sure they are safe.

S-sure. He says moving to the hallway, wanting more than anything to comfort her and hold her but does as she asks. With a sad look on his face he turns from her again and goes to find the women, leaving Reliyian to collect her clothing and clean herself from the devils secretions.

Reliyian remains on the ground, legs together and to the side as she slowly catches her breath. She tries to stand once but it is clear her strength is drained.

Cordin finds the girls are trembling with fear, still dressed in lab coats, hiding in the adjacent hallway to the room they found Zarash in. They are unharmed Did we find a way out? one of them asks.

(Reliyian you may take 1hp to be above 0)

Yes I think we have. We had a big fight but I think we may be finally able to get all of you out of here. He says hoping Reliyian is doing ok by herself for the moment. Are all of you ok? You've been safe this whole time? He says concerned for their safety, hoping Reliyian's sacrifice was not for nothing.

Demon cum works as a healing potion? I'll have to remember that. Scribbles notes into ritual book.

ROFL

Call it a lit cigarette bonus

As Reliyian slowly comes to she sees that there is a hall connected to the room they are in, at the end of which seem to be stairs leading up. Meanwhile, the girls nod. We heard the fighting and hid. We also heard a strange horn in the distance.

Eventually getting to her feet she finds her way to her orb, still dripping with cum and slime until she can weave a weak magic. Her body enveloped with a twirling white stream of energy she touches her ripped gown that sews itself together. She drapes it over herself and pulls her small robe of grey furs over her shoulders again. Finding her blade she slips it back through her belt once more.

Hmmm a horn huh? I didn't hear that earlier, I wonder what it's for. Thinking for a second he then says. Ok well come with me. We should get back to Reliyian. And with women in tow he heads back to the room where he left her.

Zarash's corpse steams and Reliyian notices that the faces on his belly have disappeared and smoothed out. Reliyian is dressed again by the time the girls come in with Cordin, the fluids are everywhere, but the demon's blood and sweat are mixed around with his other secretions, and the girls seem not to understand what has happened.

She turns to see the others enter as she is applying her some of her lavender dye to her hair and eyes again. The shadowgold is indeed powerful to affect a demon. She comments quite matter of factly.

The girls seem uncertain what Reliyian means by shadowgold, perhaps they have not heard Gibril use the term.

Coming into the room he just responds with, Yes it is. The women said they heard a horn earlier. Not sure what it means but with our luck it's probably nothing good. He walks over to the sword and with one powerful pull, yanks it out of the body. He then pulls a cloth from a pouch and cleans the blade, then throws the cloth onto the dead devil.

Both of you would remember hearing a distant, low rumbling horn-like sound last session while wandering.

check transcripts ;)

Reliyian ignores the curious and confused look of the other women, she did not speak for their benefit. She approaches Cordin putting a hand to him softly and speaking that way as well, Do not be crestfallen, in the end the day is still ours.

Nodding and speaking louder now as she looks about for the exit, I believe we had heard it. Earlier even before we found the captives. If I remember the innkeep that might be the horn of the Beacon of Souls?

(good memory)

For added measure and knowing it doesn't do any good now, Cordin kicks the corpse of the dead devil and it moves slightly, its flesh rippling then lies still again. He sneers at it and says quietly I told you I would kill you, you piece of flith. Then turning back to the others again he says. Ah yes Reliyian. He did mention that in our quick visit to the inn.

I'm pretty smart for a monster slut.

Hey now. Monster lover. Not slut.

XD

oh yeah

Reliyian smiles as Cordin kicks the body, resisting the urge to follow suit.

Since the map isn't up, we were headed south?

You can see the hall with the stairs.

The fights have been taxing on my skills, I would like to leave this cursed place but without rest we may be at the mercy of whatever is ahead. And I believe your instinct is correct. Nia is still missing, if the Beacon is sounding... there are no funerals. Perhaps the creature that haunts the mists has returned?

sorry, I cannot remember its anme

PSHHH

no worries, Catoblepas

SOME memory

LOL

Not in front of the children dear!

lol

Yes we have yet to find Nia. Though we are all nearly spent we have no choice but to continue on. If we can get out without futher conflict perhaps we can get some rest in our yet to be used room at the inn. He says after nodding when she mentions the creature. Cmon let's get moving and see if we can get out of here.

(i take it u go up the stairs?)

go go go

*She finally turns to the other women, Are you all okay? she smiles at them coldly as they move on, Should any of this start to look familiar, if the fog lifts from your memories do not hesitate to speak.

The girls nod. They follow Reliyian and Cordin as they go to the stairs. It is a steep, spiraling staircase with occasional torch light. The group climbs for a long time, it seems like perhaps 15 or 20 minutes of going up stairs even. Finally, Cordin sees a ceiling and a trap door built into it.

All of you notice it growing extremely cold as you climb.

Reliyian continues to cast light upon her orb to brighten their path instead of the dim flickering torchlight.

Noticing the change in temperature but barely affected by it Cordin sees the women in nothing but the lab coats shiver as they move along. Reliyian simply tightens her grey furs around herself as Cordin goes to try the trap door.

<open trap door?>

The trap door has a latch from this side, and opens easily. Cordin finds himself emerging from the floor of a small house in the dark. There is a bed and a desk and a dresser. On the desk is a small alchemical set. The door and shutters to the windows are shut tight, making the room barely visible until Reliyian enters. No one seems to be home.

Perhaps this is Gibrals home? Cordin says looking around now that he has some light to see.

roll perception i assume?

She nods, immediately drawn to the table of alchemical materials as she looks over for what purpose it might have been used.

Reliyian you do not recognize all the potions. But 4 of them are clearly potions of healing. (each worth 10 hp, no surge necessary)

Cordin, it takes only a moment of searching the desk to see several notes and documents signaling that you are inside Gibrals home.

god cordin is a dumb brute sometimes

Reliyian shudders from the cold, Perhaps some secret chamber in the mountain? Why would it be so cold? She gathers up the items, We can use these. And then holds up her orb and concentrates, slowly circling in place as she senses for magic.

So these potions count as surges? Is there an item that I can use the character thingy to add?

There is a sense of a great deal of magic present to you. Though this room may not be the source of it.

No they are just instant 10hp most potions use a surge, these don't cause they're special cause i don't want you to die.

XD

Magic abounds here. She looks over Cordin's shoulder at some of the papers, Well... it seems we have found how he passed unnoticed to commit his acts of treachery. She is carefully tucking the small vials into her satchel.

Not surprising this place is covered with magic considering what he has been trying to do. He says as he has finished rifling through the desk, not finding anything to note. Looking around the room he finds some more clothing for the women, naturally Gibrals', and gives it to the women to help shield them more from the cold. We should get these ladies back to town and make for the inn and get some much needed rest.

The women are grateful for the clothing. There are various robes and shirts, they manage to fit into despite the awkwardness of the size.

<leave house and go to town?>

Agreed. Events must be transpiring in our absence as well.

I want to search around first

oh ok didnt know if you were done

Since he is vital to all this, there might be soemthing

You find little else of interest, it is likely most of Gibrals' most important possessions were not kept here

ok, now done

forward ho!

As Cordin opens the door, he and Reliyian gasp at what they see. The streets of Gravesong lie before them, shrouded deeply in the mist they previously saw. It is almost impossible to further than a block away. As they peer into the deep, slivery mist, they both realize that the bright light keeping some visibility on the streets is not the moon, but the gleaming Beacon of Souls shining brighter than ever before. As Reliyian and Cordin glance up at it, an incredibly loud blare from a deep pitched horn echoes across Gravesong from the tower.

(livestream is finally in use0

Reliyian winces, the booming sound of the horn offensive to her ears. She quickly turns to the other women, Have you seen this before? We are unfamiliar with the town, do you know the quickest way to safety?

The women all seem terrified. What's happening??? One of them cries out. Another, one of the nurses, speaks with a bit more calmness It...it looks like the mist that was covering the Fields of Peace. Only now it's everywhere. This cannot be good.

She shudders again and pulls her furs tighter around her, This is no natural cold.

Reliyian, you would quickly realize with little knowledge that this mist is the source of the magic you sensed.

<http://www.imagefap.com/image.php?id=905065010>

Based on earlier knowledge, you know you are at location 12, Gibrals house.

Don't worry everything will be fine. He says looking around, his ears perking up when the horn sounds. The mist really was not covering the town before and trying to comfort the women while hiding his real concern. Let's get these women to Lillian's before this mist makes it too hard to see where we are going.

<go to lillians! #9>

Reliyian stays close behind Cordin, continuing her light spell on the orb as she hurries the woman along, Just down the road, let's hurry. You should be safe there.

As you emerge from the house onto the street (see map) You realize that the street to get to Lillian's would involve cutting South and then taking the first road West.

Red= buildings, gray=road

oh sorry. it looked like there was a road straight to it

Black squares are doors

(i took a little liberty with the roads)

(it does look that way on the big map)

After just a few steps Reliyian grabs Cordin's arm, There! She points out the slow moving form obscured by the mists

i was hoping for some rest >_<

I think we should pause here

*Squinting and not seeing anything at first, finally the shape comes into view. Ah! I see it! Where did he come from I wonder? The valley of peace?

k

As Reliyian points it out the girls scream as Cordin and Reliyian both realize there are several more figures in view. All living dead.
